revisits the work of rick turner a south african political theorist and addresses contemporary debates rick turner was a south african academic and anti apartheid activist who rebelled against the apartheid state at the height of its power for this he was assassinated in 1978 at just 32 years of age but his life and work are testimony to the power of philosophical thinking for humans everywhere turner chose to live freely in an unfree time and argued for a non racial socialist future in a context where this seemed unimaginable this book takes seriously rick turner s challenge that political theorising requires thinking in a utopian way turner s seminal book the eye of the need towards a participatory democracy laid out some of his most potent ideas on a radically different political and economic system his demand was that we work to escape the limiting ideas of the present carefully design a just future based on shared human values and act to make it a reality both politically and in our daily lives the contributors to this volume engage critically with turner s work on race relations his relationship with steve biko his views on religion education and gender oppression his participatory model of democracy and his critique of enduring forms of poverty and economic inequality they show how in his life and work turner modeled how we can dare to be free and how hope can return as the future always remains open to human construction this book makes an important contribution to contemporary thinking and activism where the need for south africans to define their understanding of their greater common good is of crucial importance
